SHOOTING MAY SOLVE MYSTERY.

Killing of Mrs. Mize May Be Cleared
Up by Another Tragedy.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—After trying to kill his divorced wife and Louis B.
Hill, a grain broker, to whom she was married last November, George C.
Miller, a retired broker, Sunday night
shot himself in the head, fatally wounding himself, just as the police arrived to arrest him.

Mr. Hill will lose his arm as the result of the shot from Miller's revolver, but Mrs. Hill escaped unharmed. The shooting occurred at the home of the Hills, 325 Chicago avenue.

Police Inspector Shippin stated that in this shooting the police believe they see a solution of the mystery of the killing of Mrs. Mize near the Delprado hotel about two weeks ago.
Mrs. Hill, it is stated, very much resembles Mrs. Mize. Mrs. Hill states her divorced husband had been seeking her for months and had threatened to kill her on sight. Miller's revolver, the police say, held three empty cartridges. Two of these were emptied Sunday night, while the other apparently had been fired some time ago.

MANY NAMES DROPPED.

Revision of Voting Lists of Philadelphia Completed.

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—The assessors of the 1,104 election divisions of the city, whose duty it is to place on the voting lists the names of all qualified electors, completed their revision of the lists Wednesday. For the past two months the policemen and other city employees, under the direction of Mayor Weaver and the City party, have been making a canvass of the city for the purpose of purging the lists of illegal voters. The police made reports alleging that more than 60,000 were on the lists in violation of the election law. In all divisions where alleged fraudulent names were found the assessors were required to strike them off. In most cases they complied with the request, but in many cases they refused to drop names without satisfactory proof and it is probable that some of the assessors will be compelled to appear in court to show cause why they refused to strike off fraudulent names.

RIOTS OCCUR IN TOKIO

JAPS EXPRESS DISSATISFACTION WITH THE TERMS OF THE PEACE TREATY.

ONLY TWO PERSONS KILLED

FIVE HUNDRED OTHERS, HOW-EVER, ARE WOUNDED DUR-ING RIOTING.

Tokio, Sept. 7.—Rioting broke out here Tuesday night in connection with the dissatisfaction over the results of the peace settlement. There were several clashes with the police and it is estimated that 2 were killed and 500 wounded. The rioting ceased at midnight. Police stations were the only property destroyed.

JAPS KEENLY DISAPPOINTED.

Terms of Peace Treaty Not to Their Liking.

Tokio, Sept. 7.—Under a vigorous defense by the conservative journals
supporting the government and a fuller
and better appreciation of the situation confronting the country, public sentiment is showing some evidence of reaction. The argument that it is impossible for Japan to continue the bloody war merely for the purpose of securing indemnity is proving effective in allaying dissatisfaction. It is believed that when the government is free to explain fully the conditions of the settlement and the logic appertain-ing to them the reaction of sentiment
will largely increase.

The entire nation is keenly disappointed at the outcome. Nowhere throughout the empire has there been a step taken toward the celebration of the conclusion of peace. The radicals continue their campaign against the government, demanding the punishment of those responsible for the compromise. The forthcoming diet is certain to be turbulent, and it is predicted that the Katsura government will be forced from office.

The declines in the market and the unsatisfactory crop conditions, compounded, naturally, with the heavy obligations of the government, have created a fear in some quarters that a financial depression and unsatisfactory business conditions are impending. A prominent banker said that the Tokio exchange was an accurate barometer
of real conditions, as lately the exchange transactions have been largely speculative. The August settlement was the largest in the history of the exchange. The recent decline he said was the result of conditions within the exchange, and not correct reflection of general conditions. The banker added:

"There is plenty of money in the country and, undoubtedly we will
weather any difficulty that may occur."

Repatriation of the Army.

"The repatriation of the army will occupy at least ten months, there being in round figures 1,000,000 of all arms and in every department. This will cost many millions yen. The government may seek a domestic loan,
but the disappointment and depression
over the result may show that the people are unwilling subscribers. However,
the government possesses considerable money and probably will manage the matter without embarrassment. I believe that much of the present agitation will pass away when the people appreciate the condition. We win more than we started in to fight
for, and occupy a very satisfactory position before the world. The cabinet and elder statesmen acted wisely, although it is probable that public sentiment will blindly demand that somebody be sacrificed."

"Knowing the temper and expectations of the people, the government has shown wonderful and commendable courage by stepping forward."
The Kokusan is the only metropolitan daily paper that defends the terms of the peace settlement. The paper declares that the purpose of the war has been accomplished and says:
"The war has not been fought to gain money. Russia has been stripped of the control of Manchuria and driven sufficiently north. More than the aim and purpose of the war has been gained by our recognized ascendancy
in Korea and every reason exists to thank our delegates and feel especially grateful for the good offices of President Roosevelt."

The Nichi Nichi calls the result an insult to the nation. The Jiji expresses discontent. The Nippon pronounces the peace treaty the bitterest dose the nation has ever been compelled to take.

NEBOGATOFF DISMISSED.

Russian Admiral and Three Captains
Lose Their Rank.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—An imperial order was issued Wednesday
dismissing Rear Admiral Nebogatoff
and the captains of the battleship

Nicolai I. (Now the Iki), and the cruisers Admiral Seniaven (now the Mino-shima), and General Admiral Apraxine (now the Okinoshima), which were surrendered to the Japanese in the battle of the Sea of Japan. All four officers, besides being deprived of their rank, are liable to punishment
under the provisions of the naval penal code. The emperor has ordered all other officers who surrendered
their vessels to be tried on their return to Russia.

GREET THE PEACE ENVOYS.

Thousands of People Welcome Them
at New York.

New York, Sept. 7.—Thousands of persons greeted the Russian peace envoys as they arrived at the Grand Central depot at 5:30 p. m. from Boston.
There was a great demonstration
when they left the train and hurried to the St. Regis hotel, where they will remain while in this city.

M. Witte, accompanied by Baron de Rosen, walked from the train to the waiting carriage and it was only through great efforts on the part of the police and secret service men that a passage way was cleared. Both envoys smiled and doffed their hats continually at the cheers of the crowds.

M. Witte and Baron de Rosen were repeatedly recognized and men and women pushed their way toward them.
The crowd became so great the party was brought to a standstill and everyone wanted to shake hands with the two men. Both grasped many hands as they slowly made their way to the sidewalk.

The Japanese envoys arrived at 8
p. m. on a special train from Boston.
Baron Kaneko, Japan's confidential
representative here, with his secretaries and two score of Japanese students, was at the station to greet the envoys. Another great crowd was on hand to cheer the returning plenipotentiaries and secret service men, city
detectives and a heavy guard of uniformed police had to make a way for the Japanese party. Baron Komura walked alone, followed closely by Mr.
Takahira. The party entered carriages and amid cheering were hurried away to their hotel.

On Saturday M. Witte and Baron
de Rosen will lunch with the president at Oyster Bay. On Tuesday M.
Witte and his party will sail for home.

JAPS DEFEAT RUSSIANS.

Win a Sharp Engagement at Chia-yongtuang.

Tokio, Sept. 7.—An official report says.

"The Japanese army attacked the Russians at Chiayongtuang on Sept. 1.
The Russian forces consisted of four battalions, six guns and several hundred cavalry. The district was mountainous and difficult, but finally the Japanese artillery successfully attacked the Russian left and occupied their position at 3 in the morning.
The Russians strongly resisted west of Chiayongtuang, but were forced to retire at 11 o'clock. Another Japanese detachment defeated the Russians at Heanienkokai, and pursued them. Japanese casualties were one officer killed, and five officers and sixty men wounded. The Russians left forty dead on the field."

OVER 100 RUSSIANS KILLED.

Remnant of Army in Sakhalin Defeated After Severe Engagement.

Tokio, Sept. 2.—(Delayed in Transmission).—An official report announces the complete and crushing defeat of the remnant of the Russian forces,
after five hours of severe fighting, at Nai Butu, on the west coast of the island of Sakhalin. The Russians killed numbered 130. The casualties of the Japanese were slight.

The Japanese defeated the Russians
in a series of sharp engagements in Northern Korea on Sept. 1.

LIFE INSURANCE PROBE.

Joint Legislative Investigation Now
Under Way in New York City.

New York, Sept. 7.—Former Governor Frank S. Black appeared as counsel for the Equitable Life Assurance society before the joint legislative committee when the committee commenced its investigation of life insurance conditions in this state. Before the hearing opened Mr. Black said:

"We have nothing to conceal and no one to protect. We seek no legal technicalities to evade answering any questions. We will aid in every way
the progress of the inquiry."

Paul D. Cravath was present in the interests of Thomas F. Ryan and W.
C. Gulliver attended as counsel for James Hazen Hyde.

Senator Armstrong outlined the purposes of the investigation, which were to make insurance companies mutual in fact as well as in theory, to protect policyholders, and not to punish anyone for wrongdoing in the past.

RACE WAR AT BAKU

ARMENIAN AND TARTAR FAC-TIONS SAID TO BE ENTIRELY
BEYOND CONTROL.

RIOTERS FIRE THE OIL WORKS

MORE THAN HALF OF THE OIL IN-DUSTRY IN THE BAKU RE-GION WIPED OUT.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—The news from Baku received up to 2:40 Thursday morning is of the gloomiest character. The Armenian and Tartar warring factions are now said to be entirely beyond control. The streets of Baku seem to be unsafe for the inhabitants and the force of troops to be inadequate to resist anarchical tendencies of the combatants. According to reliable reports the troops have been forced to withdraw from the suburb of Bakhailan, where on Tuesday the rioters set fire to the oil works, and that place is now in the hands of the Tartars, who have completed the work of destruction and it is said massacred the inhabitants who did not accompany the troops in their retirement. Telegraphic and telephonic communication with the disturbed region is cut off.

The governor of the Caucasus has dispatched reinforcements of troops to Tiflis, but with these reinforcements
it is thought the troops will be inadequate to cope with the situation.

Representatives of the oil industry
here are utterly despondent and they declare that on the basis of the telegrams so far received more than half of the industry in the Baku region has been wiped out and the fire is making rapid inroads into the remainder of oil territory.

The Baku representative of a prominent oil company has telegraphed to his St. Petersburg headquarters as follows:

"It is no longer a question of saving
our property, but one of getting out alive."

A press dispatch from Baku, approved by the censor, says:

Situation Exceedingly Tense.

"The rival organizations are concentrating in their own quarters secretly. The situation is exceedingly tense. Cannonading is heard from time to time. In the Moslem district
the patrols have been fired upon.
Bakhailan is on fire and ruins are surrounded by armed villagers, apparently Tartars. Cannonading there is unceasing. The fire continues in "The Black Town" quarter and in Bibiebat.
Energetic measures and heavy reinforcements of troops are immediately
necessary."

Other advices state that a hot fight is going on between Armenians and Tartars at Bibiebat and that great fires are still raging at Sabunto and Noman, fed by immense tanks of

naphtha, of which there are 1,600 in that region, and that the conflagration
at Baku, where up to Wednesday evening the tanks of the society of Baku were intact, is steadily increasing. Under these conditions, with fighting going on in the streets and with a hurricane blowing, the advices say, it will be almost impossible to extinguish the fires.

Oil men who assembled at St. Petersburg Wednesday formulated measures which they deemed imperative
and which were presented to Finance Minister Kokovosoff. These measures, which probably will be laid before the emperor, after detailing the causes leading to the present situation, ask that the oil works be surrounded by troops and that the inflammatory element, namely, the Armenians and Tartars, be entirely excluded from the oil region. The oil men declare that they do not hold the workmen responsible and that the regrettable events were not caused by the workmen's movement, which is economic and political, but their causes are deep rooted in the long continued general disorder
which has reigned in the region owing solely to rivalry among the races.

Police Commissioner Wounded.

Bielostok, Russia, Sept. 7.—A bomb
was thrown Wednesday at the commissioner of police. The commissioner was wounded.

BIG PURSE FOR DAN PATCH.

Champion Pacer Will Go Against His Record at Minnesota Fair.

St. Paul, Sept. 7.—The Minnesota
State Fair association has arranged with M. W. Savage, the millionaire owner of Dan Patch, the world's champion pacer, to run his horse against his own record of 1:56 for a purse of $10,000 on Saturday of this week.

Another record-breaking crowd was at the state fair Wednesday. There were 44,000 people on the grounds, as compared with 30,624 on Wednesday, 1904, and 37,905 on the same day in 1903.

MAIL WAGON DRIVERS STRIKE.

Three Hundred of Them Quit Work
in New York.

New York, Sept. 7.—Three hundred drivers of United States mail wagons quit their jobs at 10 o'clock Wednesday night. More than a score of them deserted their wagons at the mail street entrance to the postoffice,
after the strike had been decided upon. The men demanded an increase in wages some weeks ago. Acting Superintendent of Mails Fox said after the men had left the wagons that although there were 150 mail routes to be delivered to rural stations and branch offices up to 3 o'clock Thursday morning, he thought there would be no difficulty in keeping the service running. All the men are employed by the New York Mail company,
which has stables on East One Hundred and Fiftieth street.

The Case of Gaynor and Greene.

Montreal, Sept. 7.—The application for a writ of habeas corpus in the cases of Messrs. Gaynor and Greene, wanted in the United States on charges of conspiring to defraud the government, was argued before Judge Oulmet Wednesday. Argument was not concluded when the case was adjourning for the day.

SIXTEEN MEN MISSING

PART OF THE CREW OF THE BRIT-ISH STEAMER TROPIC PROB-ABLY DROWNED.

Charleston, S. C., Sept. 7.—The British steamer Tropic, 2,134 tons,
Captain Barr, arrived in this port Wednesday after a voyage lasting nearly three months. The second mate and fifteen seamen are missing.
Sailing from Valparaiso, Chile, July 12, the Tropic met with bad weather
at once and on July 16, when about twelve miles from Constitution, the ship went hard aground. High seas were running. The second mate and fifteen men put off in the first life
boat for Constitution for aid, but none of them returned. High seas ran and the twenty men on board expected every moment to be the end. The captain, with a kite sent a cord to shore and next a line and then a hawser reached the land. Over this the men went ashore. When the storm abated somewhat the vessel was found to be undamaged.

DEFEAT INSURANCE SCHEME.

Delegates From Large Cities Control
Postoffice Clerks' Convention.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 7.—Delegates from large cities Wednesday controlled the national convention of postoffice clerks, defeating the mutual insurance scheme desired by smaller cities and electing their candidates,
as follows:

President, Arthur Donaghy, Chicago; vice presidents, Thomas F.
Enney, Boston; E. J. Kickenaph, Fairbault, Minn.; C. L. Hennessy, Grand Rapids, Mich.; secretary, H. F. Wynn,
New York; sergeant-at-arms, Maurice
A. Buttiner, Savannah, Ga.

MARYLAND REPUBLICANS MEET.

Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte Presides Over Convention.

Baltimore, Sept. 7.—The Republican state convention which met here
Wednesday was presided over by Secretary of the Navy Charles J. Bonaparte.
"The disfranchisement amendment to the state constitution," was denounced in the platform adopted,
which also stated:

"The Republican party of the state
of Maryland, favors no social equality
among the races; favors no negro domination over the white race and can be depended upon to maintain proper relations in Maryland."

Wins Wimbledon Cup Match.

Seagirt, N. J., Sept. 7.—The Wimbledon cup match, one of the most important of the tournament now in progress under the auspices of the National Rifle association, was won by First Lieutenant Tews of the New Jersey infantry. His score was 84 out of a possible 100.

Wreckage of the Isosco Found.

Marquette, Mich., Sept. 7.—A report
from Skanee, near Huron island, says
that wreckage, including a name board
marked Isosco, has been washed ashore
at that point.

ALASKA'S VASTNESS.

Our Big Territory Equal in Size to Twelve Great States.

Do you know that Nome, Alaska, is 300 miles west of Honolulu? Do you know that Alaska has almost two and a half times as much coast line as the rest of the United States?

If you start at Seattle and go up the coast through 400 miles of Canadian inland waters to the Portland canal you will come to that imaginary line that the Alaskan boundary commission decreed as the place where Alaska begins. This inland sea is very like the fjords of the coast of Norway and destined in time to become one of the world's great pleasure resorts, and when you know this region you will deplore the lack of diplomacy which lost us this picturesque coast line and left the Alaska of today detached territory. In very truth the cry of 1845 of "34-40 or fight" was right.

At the Portland canal Alaska begins, and as you sail up the thousand miles of this wonderful inland sea, of scenic beauty and grandeur surpassing anything in the world, you are in southeastern Alaska, which includes the islands along the coast and the mainland from the shore line to the summit of the coast range as far north as Mount St. Elias. From the summit of this high peak the boundary line between Alaska and British Yukon territory runs directly north to the "frozen ocean," as the old Russian treaty called it.

The territory of Alaska is about equal to the combined states of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Kentucky. Maps are deceptive for comparison unless they are drawn to the same scale, and unfortunately maps of Alaska are generally drawn to a small scale. But put Alaska on the United States, and it will extend from Savannah, Ga., to Los Angeles, Cal. The climatic conditions differ as greatly as those of North Dakota differ from those of Florida. The mean annual temperature of Sitka is about the same as that of Washington, though the extremes of heat and cold are greater at Washington.—William T. Perkins in World's Work.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

We never knew any one who did not talk "shop" too much.

How you admire the man who catches you doing a good deed on the sly!

What a sorry spectacle a spoiled child is when away from its mother!

A whipping never hurts so much as the thought that you are being whipped.

Some men are washed of their sins so much that they finally have a faded look.

Tell a bad story without names, and every one will have an enemy to attribute it to.

Ambition dwindles away in time like a cake of soap, and by the time a man is seventy he can't remember that he ever had any in the tub with him.—Aitchison Globe.

Disproved.

"Do you think time is money?" said Bliffson.

"Can't be!" replied Bangs. "They say there is no end to time—and I'm broke!"—Detroit Free Press.

ORIGIN OF NAVAL TITLES.

Borrowed Military Terms From the Arabic and the Spanish.

In the early days the rank of admiral was unknown. The chief officer of a squadron was called a constable or justice. The term admiral as now used is derived from the Arabic "amir," or "emir," a commander (as in "amir-al-bahr," commander of the sea). The early English form was "amirall" and is still preserved as such by the French. The Spanish and Portuguese terms are "almirante," the Italian "ammiraglio." The title captain is not a naval but a military one. Under the older organization the real captain of a ship was a master, but a military officer was placed on board, though he knew nothing about nautical affairs. As the captain became bigger and smaller until at the present day he fills a subordinate position, which is gradually becoming obsolete, being replaced by an officer under the title of a navigating lieutenant.

Commodore comes from the Spanish "comandador." The title lieutenant, borrowed directly from the French, is more modern and is meant as a place holder or one who took the place of the captain when absent. Sublieutenant is still more modern and at the same time a misnomer, as he never was a sublieutenant, but merely a mate, or one who assisted. In former days we had no cadets, but volunteers. However, with the gradual advance of politeness, the more seemingly of cadets was borrowed from the French and adopted as the title of the young gentlemen in our navy.

In place of paymasters the ships of old had pursers, who looked after the provisions. The naval purser did more. He had charge of the stores of the ship and the money chest. Surgeons and surgeons' mates fulfilled the duties of the doctors. Chaplains are of modern introduction. Naval instructors and schoolmasters ruled in their stead. The term mate was rather a universal one and applied to all branches.

GIOTTO, THE ARTIST.

The Circle He Drew From Which Grew a Famous Phrase.

Giotto was a famous painter, sculptor and architect of the latter part of the thirteenth century. He was a son of a poor shepherd, but the attention of the great master, Cimabue, having been attracted to the boy by a drawing the lad had made on a fragment of slate, the young artist's fame spread rapidly throughout southern Europe. In those days it was customary for the popes to send for the noted men of their realm, more for the purpose of gratifying their desires to see such celebrities than anything else. Giotto was no exception to the rule. No sooner had the young Tuscan become famous than Pope Boniface VIII. invited him to Florence. When young Giotto arrived at the gates of the pope's private grounds, according to the account, the guard halted him and inquired concerning his mission.

The artist made the matter plain, but the guard was not satisfied with the explanation, frequently interrupting Giotto's explanatory remarks with, "I know he must be a much larger and distinguished looking person than yourself," and "Giotto, too, is a famous painter. By your walk I would take you to be a shepherd." Finally, upon demanding evidence of the artist's skill, the latter stooped and traced a perfect O in the dust of the path with his finger. Any one who has ever attempted the feat of drawing a perfect circle "offhand" well knows how difficult it is.

It is needless to add that the artist was forthwith ushered into the presence of the supreme pontiff, and that since that time "Rounder than Giotto's O" has been a favorite hyperbole to indicate "impossible perfection."

A Woman's Paradise.

Manxwoman declares that the Isle of Man is in some ways a woman's paradise, where at any rate she is more favored by the law than in any other part of the king's dominions. Among other privileges she enjoys a vote for the Manx house of keys and this whether she is a widow or spinster, owner, occupier or even lodger. Every widow enjoys half of her husband's personal estate, quite regardless of her late husband's wishes and "will," while the husband cannot even deal with his own property without first obtaining his wife's written consent to the transaction.

St. Matthew's Flower.

No saint has a more interesting flower dedicated to him in the floral calendar than St. Matthew. This is the passion flower. It is thought to have emblems of the crucifixion, and to these it owes the name given to it by its Spanish discoverers in America. The imaginary resemblance of the corona to the crown of thorns is the basis of the fancy. In addition to that there are the five antlers for the five wounds and the three styles for the nails, while the hammer, the lancet and the scourge are also traceable.

Don't Hinder Others.

Next in practical importance to the being possessed by a purpose of doing something in the world is the being possessed by the purpose of not hindering others in their doing whatever they have to do in the world.—Faith and Works.

SHOT BY PAT CROWE

MAKES GOOD HIS ESCAPE

OFFICERS VAINLY PURSUE THE MAN WHO HAS ELUDED THEM FOR MANY YEARS.

Omaha, Sept. 7.—During a running fight between police officers and a man believed to be Pat Crowe, the alleged kidnapper of Eddie Cudahy, and a companion just before midnight, Patrolman Albert Jackson was shot through the leg and Crowe and his companion made their escape. None of the other officers was injured. A large detail of officers was immediately sent to the spot to try to locate the fugitives. The fight occurred on lower Sixteenth street, where the men were discovered by Officer Jackson in a saloon.

Ever since Crowe returned to Omaha several weeks ago, Chief Donahue has had a force of officers seeking to capture him. His task was rendered difficult, because Jackson was the only officer who knew Crowe. It was learned by the police Tuesday that Crowe was in Omaha and extra efforts were made to locate him. Jackson and Leahy were sent to lower Sixteenth street, where Jackson saw a man whom he recognized as Crowe in a saloon. He sent Leahy to a telephone to secure assistance, meanwhile watching the men himself. The men left the saloon just as a car carrying the additional officers came up and Jackson started to follow them. Seeing they were followed, the two men opened fire, one bullet breaking Jackson's leg. Leahy joined in the pursuit, Crowe, however, made his escape.

Denver, Sept. 7.—The main event of the Grand Army encampment, speaking from the viewpoint of the rank and file, was the grand parade, which occurred during the day. To the veteran the privilege of again treading in step with comrades of the bivouac of '61 is one for which no hardship seems too great to undergo. Many who marched the two miles were exhausted when the end was reached and many others, weakened by age, fell out of the line long before the journey was completed. These tottering old veterans, regretting their inability to remain in the parade and giving every evidence of their feelings, would be cared for by the persons nearest at hand, led to a place where they could rest and recover from their exhaustion.

Three hours and five minutes were consumed by the procession in passing the grand stand, in front of which was the reviewing stand. About 15,000 veterans paraded. Kansas carried off the honors with 2,500 men in line.

FALLS FROM A FERRIS WHEEL.

Eau Claire Woman Killed and Her Husband Injured.

St. Paul, Sept. 7.—Falling fifty feet from the top of a Ferris wheel at the state fair grounds, Mrs. Frank Sebesthal of Eau Claire, Wis., was almost instantly killed at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and her husband received injuries which may prove fatal. It is thought that the accident was caused by a defective fastening on the wicker car in which Mr. and Mrs. Sebesthal were riding. The car had just reached the highest point in the wheel when a casting broke and they were thrown to the ground.

Mrs. Sebesthal struck the ground on her head, receiving a deep gash back of the ear and sustaining internal injuries from which she died at the emergency hospital. Mr. Sebesthal sustained fractures of the right leg above the knee and of the right elbow.

CHOLERA AREA WIDENING.

Number of Cases Reported From Towns Along the River Oder.

Berlin, Sept. 7.—An official bulletin just issued says that thirteen new cases of cholera and two deaths were reported during the twenty-four hours ending at noon, making the total ninety cases and twenty-six deaths. The infected area was sensibly widened during the day. The river Oder has become tainted. Three cases have been reported from the administrative district of Frankfort-on-the-Oder in three small places along that stream.

A. F. Warden Resigns.

Waukesha, Wis., Sept. 7.—A. F. Warden, chairman of the Democratic state committee, resigned that office Wednesday, because of his removal to Oklahoma. Secretary Lewis has called a meeting of the committee for Sept. 14, when a successor to Mr. Warden will be chosen.

Stevens Denies a Rumor.

New York, Sept. 7.—The Panama canal commission received a dispatch Wednesday from Chief Engineer Stevens denying the rumor that a general congestion of freight existed on the Isthmus of Panama as a result of sanitary regulations.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Brainerd, Minn., Aug. 26, 1905. TO THE PUBLIC:

In Justice to my employer, Mr. Leo. Zekman, and myself I take this means of correcting what I believe to be a breach of business courtesy as well as an injustice to our dual interests in the fur business.

I was formerly employed by A. Zekman, but have not been affiliated with him now for several months, but with MR. LEO. ZEKMAN, 86 SO. SEVENTH ST., MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. My former employer is also in the same line of business in Minneapolis, and naturally it is rather conflicting and mistakes are excusable, but I wish to remind all in this manner that I am not now, nor have I been for several months in the employ or in any manner connected with A. Zekman, and any misrepresentations which have or are now being made by him, will serve to no good purpose in the end. It is not my purpose to belittle or cast any reflections on a competitor, but I am certainly justified in making this announcement to prevent repetitions of transactions which A. Zekman has attempted to carry on with patrons who thought they were dealing with the house with which I am connected. Several instances have been reported to me of advantage having been taken by A. Zekman, he having represented to intending purchasers that I was still in his employ.

This announcement I consider especially important at this time as there will be a large number of my patrons and friends in Minneapolis during State Fair week, and they should make no mistake, LEO. ZEKMAN, not A. Zekman, is the furrier represented by me.

Respectfully Yours,

I. KRAYWETZ.

COUNCIL CONSIDERS WATER POWER PLAN

At the Adjourned Meeting Held in Council Chambers Last Night

SOME OTHER ROUTINE BUSINESS

Interesting Report of City Clerk
on Outstanding Indebtedness
of the City

An adjourned meeting of the city council was held last night. President Johnson was in the chair and the following aldermen were present: Halladay, Gardner, Peterson, Squires, Opsahl, Armstrong, Baker and Farrar.

The report of the municipal court disclosed the following data covering the business transacted in this court during the month of August: 11 arrests were made in city cases, five paid fines, 4 prisoners were committed, 2 sentences were suspended, $122.40 was collected in fines, 3 state cases were started and 3 state cases were settled. The report was on motion allowed as read.

The report of Chief of Police Simmons was ordered filed as read.

Street Commissioner Weitzel reported that he had made bridge repairs in East Brainerd as specified. The labor as a result of macadamizing Laurel street, between Seventh and Eighth streets, amounted to $290. The report was on motion accepted and filed.

City Engineer Woolman had a minute report of cement sidewalk work done by Everett & LeBlanc during the month of August. The total amount expended in this direction was $426.26. The report was ordered filed as read.

The claim of John Wilson against the city for $20,000 for personal injuries had "its first reading" last night. The claim was referred to the city attorney and the finance committee to investigate and report. There was no stipulation when the report is to be made.

The following pay rolls were on motion allowed:

City employees.....	$ 342 83
Police department.....	260 00
Street employees (acct. Laurel St.).....	290 00
Street employees.....	170 96
Fire department.....	122 50

OUTSTANDING INDEBTEDNESS.

The following very interesting statement, showing the outstanding indebtedness of the city, exclusive of the bonded indebtedness, taken from the register of warrants issued, was transmitted by City Clerk Low and the same was accepted as read:

City expense.....	$ 12,940 00
Electric light fund.....	1,006 55
S. S. W. & B.....	4,780 05
Fire protection.....	8,205 56
Printing.....	1,148 54

Total.....$ 28,080 92
The outstanding indebtedness of the city, Aug. 1 was $30,686.66, while the outstanding indebtedness on Sept. 1 was $28,080.92, making a decrease in one month of $2,605.74.

City Engineer Woolman furnished an estimate of the cost of the improvements to the lateral sewer in block 43 which amounted to $304.62. The same was on motion allowed.

The final estimate on lateral sewer "H" was also submitted. There was yet due the contractor $380 which was allowed.

The committee to which was referred the matter of making repairs on the street along the Drake farm recommended that no action be taken at this time.

The extension of the water main on Pine street was the subject of some discussion. The street committee had taken the matter up with Supt. Wright, of the Minnesota Water Works company, but no definite answer could be secured. Alderman Halladay later inquired of City Attorney Mantor, presumably having in mind this extension, whether the city had not the right under the franchise to enforce an improvement of this kind, all other conditions being complied with on the part of the city. Judge Mantor stated that naturally the city did have the right but it was like the case of a carpenter or contractor, who, when he had secured with him a hundred dollars of the amount due him for erecting a house, paid no attention to the requirements of the contract notwithstanding the demonstrations of the man who was having the house built. This contractor had got about all he could reasonably expect to get for his hire. No action was taken last night in the matter.

The sewer committee reported that the Minnesota Water Works company had signified its willingness to extend the main on Holly street to the corner of Holly and Third if the city would put in the hydrant. The proposition was accepted.

The first real important move toward settling the water works problem was taken up last night when a motion was made and unanimously carried that City Engineer Woolman proceed at once to figure on the cost of installing a new plant and in conjunction with the special committee appointed some time ago on this question furnish an estimate to the city council as soon as possible.

This naturally is a big task, and therefore the city engineer inquired as to the nature of the plant, etc. It was finally decided that the engineer be required to furnish an estimate of the cost of the pipe and the laying of the same, and other estimates will be secured as to the plant proper, filters, etc. It was not intimated last night what might be the course of the city council, but it is evident that some action will be taken at once. There are several propositions which will arise in connection with the installing of a new plant. For instance there is one project of placing a reservoir on Ahrens hill, another one which would mean the laying of a pipe to this city from some one of the lakes in the vicinity of Brainerd, but all these matters will be taken up later.

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettville, S. C., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." H. P. Dunn & Co. druggist, sells and guarantees them, at 50c a bottle.

EXTEND M. & I. TO RAINY RIVER

President Elliott and Other Northern Pacific Officials Go to International Falls

TO INVESTIGATE THE PROJECT

No Doubt is Felt But That the Extension Will Be Made Next Season

The following dispatch to the Minneapolis Tribune is of interest to the people of this city:

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 6.—Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific railway, arrived here on board a special train yesterday.

Elliott was accompanied by Horn, general manager; Bunn, general counsel; Cooper, land commissioner; Woodworth, traffic manager; W. H. Gemmell, general manager of the Minnesota & International railroad, one of the proprietary lines of the Northern Pacific, and E. W. Backus, of Minneapolis.

"We go from Winnipeg to Fort Francis and returning here tonight, when we will return south and inspect some of the company's line in northern Minnesota," said Mr. Elliott.

"We intend to look over the water power situation at Port Francis and Rainy River. Parties have been urging us to extend our line to that place, and we are now investigating advantages of such an extension. The company has not yet had any plans prepared for the extension, but an investigation of the project may be considered as the official significance of the present trip."

Attacked by a Mob

Former Brainerd Lady Dead.

The following from the Catlettsburg, Kentucky Daily Press, will be of interest to old time residents of the city, as the deceased lady formerly resided here:

"On Friday morning at 10:45 Mrs. Charlotte Wakely, the aged mother of our esteemed townsman, Gilbert Wakely, departed this life at the residence of her son, on East Winchester avenue. Mrs. Wakely was born in 1841 at Birmingham, Stockwell county N. Y., but of late years had lived in the east, coming to Ashland from Chicago, the first of January, since which time she has made her home with her son and daughter-in-law, in our city. She had been an invalid for the past nine years, as the result of a paralytic stroke which affected the left side, but had been confined to her bed only five days, when the final summons came. Mrs. Wakely displayed patience and courage under her afflictions in a manner which endeared her to all who came to know her during her short stay in Ashland. She was a gentle refined lady, a devoted member of the Episcopal church, and possessed of many lovely traits of character.

"Mrs. Wakely is survived only by her son, Gilbert, who in the death of his mother, loses the last member of his family, having lost father and sister within little more than a year. The sympathy of neighbors and friends is heartily extended to the sorrowing son and his family. The funeral will occur on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 from the residence and interment will be made temporarily in the Ashland cemetery, the body will later be taken to Chicago and be laid beside that of the husband who has so recently preceded the loving old wife."

The Minnesota & International railway will sell tickets during the summer for one fare for the round trip to all points on the line, good going Saturday and returning Monday. 22tf

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY."

"In Old Kentucky," which will be given at the Brainerd opera house on Monday, Sept. 11, requires no extended introduction to playgoers of this city. For over twelve years it has been before the American public, which is the best evidence of the worth of this Southern drama. The same competent management that launched the play away back in 1892 still handles the affairs of the organization. No inferior cast or cheap, tawdry scenic equipment has ever been given the play by its owner. Jacob Litt, who has invariably sent out the drama with the very best cast of players obtainable. "In Old Kentucky" is essentially a play for the masses. There is in it that indefinable something that makes a strong appeal to every class of theatregoer. The pickaninies are an entertainment in themselves. They sing, dance, perform on musical instruments as a brass band and add the characteristic Southern flavor to the play. With the advent of new plays and the passing away of many old time favorites, "In Old Kentucky" remains one of the strongest drawing cards on the American stage. The passing seasons have had no effect upon its magnetic qualities or dimmed its power to please the playgoers of every section of the country. Prices $1, 75 and 50c.

NEARLY DOUBLE ACCIDENT

William Gergen Injured by Being Run Over by a Harvester--Dr. Camp in Runaway Accident Returning

William Gergen was injured yesterday afternoon quite severely on his farm south of here by being run over by a harvester. His shoulder blade was dislocated and he was otherwise quite badly bruised. Dr. J. L. Camp was called out there last evening and dressed the injured man's wounds.

What might have been a serious accident occurred in which Dr. Camp was the victim on his way home from the Gergen farm. Dr. Camp was riding over a patch of corduroy road and one side of the neckyoke became unfastened from the harness and it dropped down and the horses started to run. They could not be managed and the genial doctor was thrown from his rig into a pool of water fully three feet deep. A finger on one hand was slightly injured and his side was quite badly wrenched. Otherwise he was not injured but it was a close call. One of the young Parson boys was with him at the time. He too was thrown from the buggy but escaped serious injury.

No need to fear sudden attacks of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea, summer complaint of any sort if you have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the medicine chest.

ANIMAL ANIMUS.

Ways in Which Wild Brutes Show Their Contempt For Mankind.

"Wild animals have a great many ways of showing their contempt for humankind," said an artist who has made a specialty of modeling animals. "Every one has an idea that elephants become tame and even fond of people, but this is altogether wrong. They are easily trained, but are never tamed. They are docile just so long as the keeper has his god in his hand or the memory of a burning endures. I had proof of this one day while modeling one of the elephants in a big animal show. I was sitting in his stall, with my modeling stand, not knowing that on certain days he was given an extra allowance of chain. Suddenly he flung his trunk around with such force that it smashed the stand to bits and sent me a dozen feet outside the stall.

"He never forgot his failure to finish me, and soon afterward he expressed his dislike in a more vulgar if less dangerous manner. As I worked I heard him make a loud sucking noise, but suspected nothing. At last when he had his mouth quite full of saliva he blew it toward me.

"This is not only a trick of elephants, but of other animals as well, as I have learned to my sorrow. Camels have the same habit, and while working near a camel one day I was treated to a shower of finely chewed cud."

This sculptor and other artists agree that the cat animals have a different mode of attack. There seems less of spite and more of real hate in their method. Sculptors usually place their modeling stands as close to the bars as possible. This same one was once working close to a tiger's cage, with the beast inside lying very quiet, apparently asleep. Without even raising his eyeballs the big cat struck between the bars with his heavy forepaw, splintering the stand and sending the clay in wads on the floor. The artist, warned by a sixth sense developed by those who are much about animals, had jumped back just in time to escape.—New York Herald.

BITS FROM THE WRITERS.

The simple life does not need lentils or cellular clothing. It needs those rarer things, gratitude and humility.—G. K. Chesterton.

She wore far too much rouge last night and not quite enough clothes. That is always a sign of despair in a woman.—"Sebastian Melmoth."

Keep your head on your shoulders. It's bound to rest on some one else's occasionally. Still, keep it mostly on your own.—"A Pagan's Love," by Constance Clyde.

If you feel that you've really got to tell a secret, go somewhere where it's dark an' you'll be alone. Then keep your mouth shut.—"The Middle Wall," by Edward Marshall.

Not that marriage is so beautiful, but it is necessary a girl should find that out for herself, so that she can turn her mind peacefully to other things.—"A Pagan's Love," by Constance Clyde.

The Guest and the Waitress.

A dainty stranger waited into the dining room of a hotel in Smith Centre the other day and as the chair was held back for him pulled out his handkerchief and dusted the seat carefully. Pulling up his trousers, he seated himself, wiped the knife, fork and spoon with a napkin, worried a few crumbs off the table and heaved a sigh of relief. Without hesitation the girl who stepped forward to take his order deftly wiped the stranger's mouth, which had been drawn into a pucker of dissatisfaction at the imaginary untidiness abounding, and planted a kiss thereon that was plainly heard in all parts of the room. The dainty stranger when he recovered ordered meekly, ate hurriedly and left quickly.—Kansas City Journal.

Demean.

Says a writer in the London Chronicle: "A vulgarism—one which, like 'aggravate' for 'irritate,' has come into use by way of the kitchen stairs—is 'demean,' with a sense of derogation or abasement. It is to be seen in many a paper and even many a book and heard in many a speech. It is the second syllable that has misled the popular understanding, but the noun 'demeanor' should have saved the educated from their blunder with the verb. When the cook refuses to 'demean herself' she is excusable, because 'demeanor' is not in her vocabulary."

Assault and Robbery.

Minneapolis, Sept. 7.—As a result of a murderous assault and robbery which took place in a room of the Minnesota House about 8 o'clock p. m. Frank Cederberg, said to be an ex-convict, is now at the Minneapolis lockup charged with the crime, and Harry Durston is lying at the city hospital in a precarious condition with several gasping wounds in his head. Two men were concerned in the robbery. The other man escaped.

The Catamaran.

The catamaran, made of a hollowed log, shares the popularity of the Masaoia boat with the fishermen of Madras. The rickety looking contrivance can weather any storm in the skillful native hands, and letters are sent by this means to ships in the offing when other communication with the shore is impossible. The catamaran requires steering with a paddle through the raging surf, and, though the boatman may be frequently dashed out of the rude skiff by the violence of the waves, he leaps into his frail bark again with the efficiency of long practice, and the catamaran, flying over the crest of the great billows which threaten instant destruction, accomplishes the perilous voyage in safety.

YELLOW FEVER SITUATION.

Smaller Number of New Cases Reported at New Orleans.

New Orleans, Sept. 7.—Following is the official yellow fever report up to 6 p. m. Wednesday:

New cases, 31; total cases to date, 2,142; deaths, 4; total deaths, 298; new sub-foci, 6; cases under treatment, 317; cases discharged, 1,527.

There was no special feature in the fever situation beyond the smaller number of cases reported and the few deaths. There has been some demand here for a quarantine of the city against the country, on account of the danger of reinfection, but Dr. White is opposed to such a plan and does not believe it will be effective. However, all entrances to the city are being watched.

The following reports from the country have been received:

Jefferson parish, Kenner, 4 cases; Hanson City, 5 cases, 3 deaths; Kinlin's camp, 2 cases; Fisher's camp, 2 cases; Shreveport, 1 death; St. Bernard parish, Terre Aux Boeufs, 1 case; near slaughter house, 1 case; St. Mary's parish, Patterson, 12 cases; Amelia, 6 new cases; Tallulah, 21 cases in all; Lake Providence, 9 cases.

$100 REWARD. $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

FOUR YOUNG WOMEN DROWNED.

Small Pleasure Launch Run Down and Sunk by a Ferryboat.

Hudson, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Four young women, two of whom were returning from their father's funeral, were drowned in the Hudson river here Sunday, when the small pleasure steamer Young America was run down and sunk by the ferryboat George H. Power. They were Mary C. Pedell, Jennie L. Bedell and Sarah Brown of New York city, and Margaret McKay of Coxsack.

The two boats were attempting to pass in a narrow strip of water just below the city. The swift current threw them together heavily and the Young America sank almost immediately.

ELEVEN LIVES LOST

STEAMER SEVONA RUNS ASHORE DURING A HEAVY STORM ON LAKE SUPERIOR.

SEVERAL ON BOARD ESCAPE

MANAGE TO REACH SHORE AFTER LONG, HARD STRUGGLE WITH WIND AND WAVE.

Duluth, Sept. 7.—A special to the News-Tribune from Ashland, Wis., says:

Word was received here Sunday that the steamer Sevona, ore-laden from Allouez to Erie, Pa., ran ashore on York Island at 6 o'clock Friday night in a heavy northeaster, soon afterward breaking in two at the fourth hatch and sinking. Five lives were lost. Two boats were put off. The one in charge of the first engineer containing Miss Jones and Mrs. S. F. Spence of Erie, Pa.; Mrs. C. H. Clucky of West Bay City, Mich.; Mrs. William Phillips, Adam Fiden, Nick Fiden and C. H. Clucky; two firemen and one deckhand, all of Buffalo.

Battling with waves all night, the occupants of the boat suffered terribly from cold and exposure and several times the crew was almost forced to give up the struggle, but were urged on by the women passengers in the boat. When day broke with land in sight, the party was in an exhausted condition, but reached shore after several attempts to land at Little Land bay.

Here they met homesteaders who accompanied them to the nearest farmhouse, a distance of two miles. The party were cared for by the Rabideau and Smith families, with the exception of the engineer, who with Al Rabideau, a homesteader, set out with a team for Bayfield. The trip took until 4 o'clock Sunday, they being compelled to practically cut a way through the forest.

Tug Goes to the Rescue.

Upon reaching Bayfield, the tug Harrow of the Booth Packing Co., in command of Captain Anderson, with a party of volunteer life savers on board, immediately set out for the scene of the wreck to rescue Captain E. S. McDonald of Eastport, Pa., two mates, two wheelmen and one deckhand, who were on the forward end of the ill-fated vessel.

The second boat containing five men has not been heard from and it is believed it foundered in the heavy seas. The Sevona was seeking shelter when it struck the reef. Heavy weather prevented the lookout from seeing Raspberry island lighthouse.

There is now every indication that eleven lives were lost as a result of the wreck of the Sevona.

The tug Harrow, which went out from Bayfield with a rescuing party, in charge of Captain O. J. Barrows of Bayfield and accompanied by Engineer Phillips of the doomed steamer, who guided the craft to the scene of the disaster, returned at 10 p. m. Sunday. They reported that nothing was seen of the men left on the boat when the two yawls were lowered. It is expected that Captain E. S. McDonald of Northeast, Pa., First Mate Louis Darwin of Medina, O.; the second mate and two watchmen, have been lost, as were the men on the second boat that left the Sevona when she sank. They were a fireman, name unknown, shipped at Cleveland, Aug. 23; Van Vleck, Erie, Pa.; an officer, name unknown, shipped at Cleveland; deckhand, name unknown, of Northeast, Pa., and two others whose names are not known.

Fifteen men composed the rescuing party. They made the trip in two hours in the teeth of a blinding northeast gale. When they reached the Sevona, only a small portion of her was visible above the water.

ST. PAUL MAN DROWNED.

Prediction of Many Years Ago Comes True.

St. Paul, Sept. 7.—William John, twenty-one years old, only son of Dr. W. W. Schiffman, 259 Selby avenue, was drowned in White Bear lake Sunday afternoon, and Everett, son of A. D. Brown, 945 Lincoln avenue, is in a serious condition from exhaustion. The fatality resulted from the capsizing of a canoe in which the young men were rowing across the lake.

Mrs. Schiffman was told several years ago by a soothsayer that her son would die in water in September of this year and has always been affected by the intelligence. The young man came to the city Saturday and returned to the lake Sunday morning. While at the breakfast table Sunday she told the family for the first time of the prediction and William was requested to learn to swim. He replied that the water was too cold for such exercise.

Serious Uprising in China.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 7.—Advices were received from Peking by the steamer Athenian that the uprising of the Kaloos, an organization similar to the Boxers, is assuming serious proportions in Southern Shansi. The insurgents have burned many government offices and yamens, defeated several thousand imperial troops, and killed several high officials in Talyuanfu. It is reported some missionaries have also been killed.

AN INDIAN LEGEND.

The Way Nan-ab-beju Made the New Earth After the Flood.

"I will tell you the story of Nan-ab-beju. He is the man who made the new earth after the big water came and covered it.

"Big waters came, and there was nothing anywhere except water and the sky and the sun and the stars," said the old Chippewa. "Nan-ab-beju made a great raft and put on it some relics of everything that had been on the earth—specimens of each kind of animals, of all the trees, shrubs, plants, flowers, birds, rocks, and one man and one woman. In short, he did not leave anything except sand. He forgot to save some sand, and yet he could not do anything without it. He sailed out far into the flood and made a little island, very, very small. Then he found he had no sand. He made a very big line, longer than hundreds of deer-skins cut up into ribbons and tied together, and he took a muskrat off the raft and tied the line to it and threw it into the water. The frightened rat dove down and down, and when there was no longer any pulling at the line Nan-ab-beju knew the rat was at the bottom of the sea. Then he began to pull the line up. At the end of it came the poor muskrat, stone dead, drowned. But Nan-ab-beju saw that the little black paws of the animal were clenched as if there was something in their palms and that the rat held tight hold of even after death. The little paws were forced open, and in them were found half a dozen grains of sand. One grain would have been enough for the great Nan-ab-beju.

"Nan-ab-beju blew his breath on the muskrat, and its life came back to it. Then he mixed the sand in the little island that he had made and blew on that also. As he blew and blew it swelled and swelled until it was so big that Nan-ab-beju could not see the sides or end of it in any direction. Nan-ab-beju was not quite certain whether he had made it as big as the old earth before the big water came. He had to make it as big as it had been—so big, in fact, that no man or creature could find the end of it. He had plenty of animals that could travel over the earth and find out how big it was, so he decided to take two huge buffaloes off the raft and send them to see whether there was any end to what he had made. The buffaloes ran off with all speed, and Nan-ab-beju sat down and waited. In a few days the buffaloes came back and said they had found the end of the earth. So Nan-ab-beju blew and blew and blew on the ground again, and it swelled so fast that you could see it broadening. When he had blown until he was tired he took a crow off the raft and sent it to see if it could find the end of the earth. The crow was gone a very long time, but at last it came sailing back on the wind and said it had flown till it was tired out and there was no sign of any end to the earth.

"Nan-ab-beju, to make sure, blew again and swelled the earth a great deal bigger. Then he untied and uncaged and untrapped all the animals and drove them from the raft on to the land and left them free to roam where they might. He took all the trees, plants, bushes and shrubs and planted them around, and he blew the grass out of his hands as hard as he could blow it, so that it scattered all over. Next he let loose all the birds and beetles and bugs and snakes and toads and butterflies, and finally he invited the man and woman, both Chippewas, to go ashore and make the new earth their hunting ground. And Nan-ab-beju's task was done."—St. Nicholas.

Titles in Germany.

The question of title is one of the most delicate in Germany, a fact of which the stranger is constantly reminded in intercourse with the people, particularly with the women. Frau Professor, Frau Director, Frau Doctor, are most particular about their husband's titles being attached to their own names. But when it comes to military circles it is different, and both men and women protest vigorously against this sharing of titles. Lieutenant von B. objects to having his wife addressed as Frau Lieutenant, which title belongs as well to the wife of Lieutenant Schmidt or Haaf of a less aristocratic regiment.

Dumas' Scheme.

Alexandre Dumas, Sr., was once visiting his son, who at that time lived in a villa near Paris. They sat in a tiny scrap of a garden behind the house under the one small tree it contained. It was a broiling hot day, and Dumas, who was very stout, said to his son: "I am suffocating with the intense heat."

"What shall I do, father?"

"Suppose you open your chamber window and let a little air into the garden," replied old Alexandre, with gravity.

ERRONEOUS BELIEFS.

SOME ODD NOTIONS THAT ARE FIXED IN MANY MINDS.

Popular Ignorance as to Law in Everyday Occurrences—Cashiers' Mistakes in Banks—The Finding of Dead Bodies—Sunday Contracts.

It is an American predilection to believe the outre and freakish stories that are based solely on hearsay testimony and to reject often the commonplace matter of fact. A list of the cheerful lies that are commonly believed would fill a volume. Only a few of them are given below.

How often have you been inflicted with the story of the man who was overpaid when cashing a check at the bank and the cashier telling him that no mistakes would be corrected after the customer left the window? According to the story, the cashier laid down the mandate before the cashier knew the mistake was in his favor. It makes an excellent yarn, but diligent search discloses that it never had any foundation in fact. Banks have no such rule. If a customer is underpaid or overpaid the mistake will appear when the balance is struck at the end of the day's business, and the error will be cheerfully rectified. But the majority of the public believe the fictitious story of "how the fellow got the best of the bank" simply because it is a good story and they like to believe it.

Probably the most common error on the part of the public is the belief that when a dead body is found no one has a right to touch or move the remains "until the coroner comes." There never was any such law, is not now and probably never will be. The citizen who is of an inquiring turn of mind has a perfect right to examine the dead bodies he runs across in the course of his travels, to move the remains and even search the pockets of the deceased, provided, of course, that his motives are honest. That is all that is necessary.

There is also a prevalent belief that a note signed or contract entered into on Sunday is void and that either party can plead the fact of the sacred day to get out of a bad bargain. This is not true. If a man enters into a contract or signs a note on Sunday he is legally bound and can have no defense that he would not have if the transaction had occurred in the middle of the week.

"I had my back against my own house when I struck this man," says the defendant in police court. He believes that his proximity to his castle gives him more rights than he would have if he were in the street. This belief has been the cause of much cantankerous litigation, and it has ever resulted in the ruling that a man has a right to defend himself in a reasonable manner if he is attacked, whatever may be his geographical position, and the incidental contiguity of his home "puts no ice" in the case.

The public has great confidence in the magic number three, and without any reasonable basis for the belief. It is commonly believed that if a drowning person sinks for the third time he is gone for good and all. The facts contradict this. Many persons die in the first sinking, and if one has the strength and vitality to rise to the surface of the water twice it furnishes an excellent presumption that he will be able to do so again. In an eddy or rapidly moving waters people have sunk from sight a half dozen times and lived to tell the experience to their grandchildren.

Then there is the third congestive chill, commonly believed to be fatal. Most people who die from this cause succumb to the first or second attack. If a man succeeds in weathering two of them the odds are in favor of his coming out victor in the third. Almost every community possesses a citizen who boasts the fact that he has a silver plate in his skull. Surgeons say that very few attempts were ever made at such an operation, and all of them were failures. There does not exist a man who has a silver plate in his skull, although many men honestly believe that they are carrying this species of paraphernalia in their craniums. The bone of the skull cannot live and be healthy in the presence of a foreign body. It is said by surgeons to be a physical impossibility, but this serves in no way to overcome the common and erroneous belief.

The medical fraternity has another false belief to combat in cases of "shingles." This disease consists of a skin eruption, always following affected nerves and commonly appearing on the body. It is a very common belief that if the "shingles" completely surround the body and strike a meeting point the patient will die instantly. The belief is untrue.—Kansas City Journal.

Considerate.

After the tea things had been cleared away the young wife came over and sat on hubby's knee, put her plump arms about his neck and kissed him half a dozen times.

"Well, what is it now?" he queried.

"A new dress, dear," she answered.

"But don't you know that times are awfully hard just at present?" he queried.

"Of course I do," she replied. "That's why I want to give the poor dress-maker something to do."—Detroit Tribune.

No Repentance.

"She married in haste and repented at leisure, didn't she?"

"She hasn't repented any that I know of."

"But she is divorced?"

"Yes. But she gets $200 a month alimony."—Houston Post.

He that will keep a monkey should pay for the glasses he breaks.—Selden.

NO SIGN OF WEAKENING.

United Typothetae Strongly Opposed to Demands of Printers.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 7.—The United Typothetae of America continued its convention here Wednesday. Reports of routine nature from various committees were read and acted upon, but the absorbing topic of discussion and conversation was the demand of the printers for the eight hours. The convention is solidly opposed to the demand. There seems to be no sign of weakening in the position of the executive committee taken Tuesday—namely, not to grant the eight-hour day under present conditions.

Wednesday afternoon a telegram from J. M. Bramwood, secretary of the eight-hour committee of the International Typographical union, announced that President Lynch and Vice President Hays of the eight-hour committee would be in Niagara Falls Thursday. It was resolved that the courtesies of the convention be extended to Messrs. Lynch and Hays when they arrive.

SOME PROGRESS IS MADE.

Commissioners of Sweden and Norway Hold Two Sessions.

Karlstad, Sweden, Sept. 7.—The commissioners of Sweden and Norway, who are considering the question of the dissolution of the union, held two sessions Wednesday. While no official statement was given out, it is understood that some progress was made and that the Norwegians requested the making of an arbitration treaty as a basis for future negotiations. Premier Michelsen of Norway said that the delay in announcing the details of the conference must not be considered as evidence of lack of progress, and that an agreement between the commissioners was probable.

Philippine Government to Turn Water Traffic Over to Commercial Lines.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The Philippine government has decided to discontinue the operation of the seven-teen coast guard ships and turn the inter-island water traffic of the government over to commercial lines of steamers. To accomplish this purpose specifications have been prepared, and within a few days proposals will be invited both in the Philippines and this country for carrying the mails and government passengers and supplies over twenty-one routes in the islands.

This plan is practically a return to the method of transportation in vogue under Spanish rule in the islands.
